

Finally made it!

Finally made it....Well finally we have had a turn of luck after spending the night in the freezing 50 degree airport we got on flight and made it to detroit. We arrived at the Avis rental counter and "jeet" gave us the hook up when she heard our story so now we are driving a cadillac sts. Pimpin in Detroit...nice....So want to head right downtown but we have another airport pickup at 4pm so we are undecided at the moment....Should have some goodies for you on the festival tonight.
